

GET A GRIP ON GLOVES!

Work gloves are essential to a number of jobs across a wide range of activities and can often prevent serious injuries. Understanding glove type, material, their uses and the kind of protection they offer will help you select the right gloves for the job and environment you're working in.

Type	Material	Uses
 Disposable/Single Use—These gloves are economical, often disposable and appropriate for a variety of settings. See pages 325-327.	Vinyl, PVC, Latex, Nitrile	Small parts handling, food handling, manufacturing, medical and lab use. Nitrile is a good choice for those with latex allergies. Suitable for light-duty tasks.
 Knit—These offer comfortable fit, good flexibility and can be used as a liner for extra protection. Look for gloves featuring PVC dots for extra grip. See page 334.	Cotton/ Polyester	Use as a liner or for additional protection and grip. Suitable for light-duty tasks.
 Leather—Combines excellent strength, dexterity and durability with comfort and protection. Look for designs with shirred or elasticized cuffs to help keep dirt and debris out of the glove. See page 332.	Cowhide, Pigskin, Goatskin	Use for abrasion resistance, general use. Suitable for medium-duty tasks.
 Canvas & Fabric—Provide durability, dexterity and comfort. Palms with PVC dots or natural or synthetic hide offer greater grip. These gloves can typically be laundered. When sturdy synthetic fabric is used, durability is increased along with resistance to abrasions, cuts and punctures. See page 333.	Cotton	General purpose. Suitable for light- to medium-duty tasks.
 Supported/Dipped—Degrees of protection vary with coatings that protect against solvents and chemicals and also provide protection from abrasions, punctures and cuts. See pages 328-331.	Typically knit with Foam Nitrile, Polyurethane or PVC	Chemical processing/handling, cleaning, oil refining, food processing. Suitable for medium- to heavy-duty tasks.
 Specialty—Provides exceptional dexterity, grip, impact cushioning, imperviousness to liquids and other protection. Features palms, coatings and thicknesses for the most demanding users. See page 335.	Lined & unlined Neoprene, Nitrile, Nylon; Flock-lined	For rough, oily, abrasive, hot or cold environments; touch-screen, cut-resistant. Suitable for box handling and other heavy-duty tasks.
